HEAR HEFLIN

At Louisa on Next Monday
Oct. 16th.

One of the Brightest and Most Entertaining Speakers of the Entire Country.

If the people of this section knew what is in store for them the Lawrence county court house would not hold one tenth of the crowd which would flock to hear Representative Heflin, of Alabama, who will speak in this city next Monday afternoon, October 16th. He comes to speak in the interest of Democracy, especially in behalf of the Democratic State Ticket, but citizens of all shades of political opinion are cordially invited to be present. Mr. Heflin is one of the foremost orators of the South, that land of eloquent public men, and as a member of Congress he used his splendid gifts of oratory and statesmanship most effectively. In his campaign speeches Mr. Heflin, of course, discusses the issue of the day, and he does this in the most logical and convincing way, but he has the flowers of rhetoric and the merry jest at his command enabling him to address himself to and to please all sorts and conditions of hearers.

From numerous notices of Mr. Heflin's tour in Kentucky the News takes the following:
Marion, Ky., Oct. 9.—The large crowd of people gathered for the trial of the free. Guarding the Hon. M. Hughes

CHEROKEE. People filled the opera house and a more captivating and convincing speech was never heard in Marion. He made a strong plea for Ollie James, Gov. McCreary and the State ticket, because, he said, they and their platform deserved support and because of the effect a Democratic victory in Kentucky would have in next year's national campaign.

Keep the day and date of Mr. Heflin's coming well in mind and put aside all other matters and come and enjoy such a speech as is not heard everyday.

CONDITION SERIOUS.

William Fulkerson, whose serious accident was chronicled in the News last week, is now receiving treatment at Riverview hospital in this city. He was brought here Tuesday night so that he could be more easily reached by his mother. Since his arrival here there has been but little if any change in his condition. The accident produced a fracture at the base of the skull, and the brain is consequently somewhat affected. It is noticed occasionally that there is some mental disturbance, not very pronounced. He is receiving the best care and attention possible.

MISSION MEETINGS.

Mrs. L. T. McClure and some other ladies have secured the use of the moving picture building for the purpose of holding Sunday afternoon meetings therein. The service consists of singing, reading the scriptures and prayer, with short talks on religious subjects. The meetings are specially designed for those who do not attend church, but all are cordially invited. The first meeting was held last Sunday and was well attended.

DANIELS CASE DISMISSED.

One important action of the recent term of the Mingo Criminal court was the dismissal of the murder charge against Charles Daniels, whose wife and daughter were killed in the raid on his home opposite Devon. Daniels was tried at the last term and the jury failed to agree, eleven being for acquittal. Daniels had killed one of his assailants after they had, in their attempt to capture him, shot and killed his daughter and her mother.

day night and Sunday.

Mrs. Easter Lowe is very sick at this writing.

Mary Alley and sister, Flora called to see Cosbie and Ealon Alley last Sunday.

Fred and Landon Maynard, of Brushy, visited friends at this place a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alley attended church on Wolf Creek Saturday and Sunday.

Hayse Lowe and family have returned from Williamson, where they have been visiting relatives.

ENTERTAINMENT.

Our people will miss Cosbie Alley called on miss learn that another a Caudill Wednesday. course has been arranged w as church at Hurricane and will be presented 8th. coming season. It with Lowe went to Williamson five numbers of variety. all first class. The I. Nancy Maynard called to son tickets will be $1.40 on Burgett Run last as it was last season. Atkinson is the sole manager promoter. The first attraction will be The Margurite Smith Company, which will appear November 10, of which a more extended notice will appear later. Mrs. Atkinson deserves the thanks of our people for, at no small risk, furnishing this course, and her proposition to give us entertainment and pleasure at so small cost should meet with a liberal response.

MASONIC GRAND BODIES.

The Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter will meet in annual session in Louisville next week, beginning Tuesday. The Grand Lodge holds its meetings during the day, while the Chapter convenes at night. A. J. Garred is Master of the lodge at this place and A. M. Hughes is High Priest of the Chapter and are ex-officio delegates to the grand bodies, and they will probably attend.

CHARGE AGAINST O'REAR

Made by McCreary Creates Another Sensation.

Wickliffe, Ky., Oct. 7.—The first real sensation of the campaign between former Senator James B. McCreary and Judge Edward C. O'Rear for the governorship of Kentucky was sprung here today by Senator McCreary when he charged his Republican opponent with having participated in a meeting at the Galt House in Louisville in January, 1900, with W. S. Taylor, and others, and that Judge O'Rear made a speech in that meeting in which he advocated the use of armed men and violence to keep Taylor in office. Senator McCreary said that he had been trying to secure this evidence for the past month, but that it was not until Friday, in Louisville, that he secured the word of a man who was in that conference and who heard all that was said by Taylor, Judge O'Rear and others, with reference to the course to be pursued by Taylor and his associates to retain the office to which they claimed to have been elected.

Not only did Senator McCreary charge Judge O'Rear with having made a speech in that conference in which he advocated violence, but he called on him to tell the people of Kentucky why he banded with Taylor, and dared him to tell what he had said in that speech of eleven years ago. He said it was shortly after this advice had been given to Taylor to Judge O'Rear that the regiment of armed soldiers from the mountains of Kentucky marched on Frankfort and remained there until William Goebel. Senator McCreary said the conduct of his Republican opponent in that memorable meeting was of such a nature that he did not care to comment on it to any great length, unless it should be denied, when he would be ready to furnish the names of two prominent men of Kentucky who were in the conference, to prove his assertion. He said, however, that he believed the people of Kentucky would give the matter much thought between now and the November election and would show by their votes that they did not countenance such action on the part of a man seeking the highest office within the gift of the people of the State.

No one in the vast crowd which heard Senator McCreary today had any idea that he was going to make such a sensational charge against his opponent, and when he began to discuss the meeting, which had been kept secret for eleven years, his listeners began to sit up and take notice, and when he charged Judge O'Rear with being one of the prime movers in the conference

This well is Mr. Brode's first venture in deep sand territory and as it has turned out so handsomely, he and his associates have leased 1,200 acres of Berea Grit stuff in Washington county, Ohio, and 70 acres in Doddridge county, West Virginia which will be drilled at once.—Sunday's Herald-Dispatch.

Attorney General Samuel W. Williams, of Virginia, has filed in the United States supreme court a motion for a rehearing in the Virginia-West Virginia debt case. In so far as interest on the debt is concerned. The attorney-general set forth that while Virginia has made every effort to bring about an agreement, as to interest, West Virginia has ignored all advances on the part of the older state. At the last term the supreme court decided West Virginia's share of the debt to be between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 and left the interest account to be adjusted between the two states. The motion will be presented to the court early in the approaching term.

The Central Oil Co., is making preparations to put down a well at once on the Dingee land near Perry's house. If gas is found it will be so near that the expense of piping will be small. The company has drilled a number of wells and has found gas in paying quantities in each well.—Wayne News.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

If a child is brought up in the constant exercise of courtesy toward brothers and sisters and playmates as well as toward parents and uncles and aunts, it will have little left to learn as it grows older.

Character makes the man; character plus culture makes the gentleman is the real nobleman of this world. Culture is the rose on the breast of character. Wear it that you may make life not only useful and honorable, but high, sweet and helpful, noble and divine.

The house and home require a head the same as any other business. No study is of greater importance to a girl; after marriage she often wishes she knew more of cooking and less of Latin. Money and love combined does not form a for their monthly examinations. The Course of Study recommends that they be prepared by the Supt. at the expense of the County Board of Education.

Now, I wish to say to the teachers that I think it advisable for the teachers to prepare their own questions for the first part of their schools for several reasons. In the first place the questions should only cover the work gone over in the schools and while many of the teachers are following the Program and Course of Study to the letter and have covered practically the same number of pages in each of the Text Books, many others have not yet been able to follow the word is worthy of more true applause than if she possessed many accomplishments.

Children lost! lost! lost! Hearken to the startled cry. Children lost! Oh men, your cities are full of them; and they are your children, your own tender little ones; mothers, the babies that lay in smiling innocence upon your bosoms; the dear, brave boys that looked up to you in perfect confidence and warm impulse love. Your homes are lonely without them, your hearts are hungry for their love. Oh, miss them now; the darlings of other years; you want the little hands in your own once more; you want the warm kiss upon your aching brow. But life hurries on, and lost! lost! ever rings through the darkened aisles of time. One by one the drunkard's graves yawn wide and somebody's darling is gone. The midnight revel and the gambling den covers its ghastly dead, and the homes are in sackcloth and sorrow sits a familiar guest of many a hearstone. Brave beloved boys, noble men, fair braved maidens and mature womanhood. Oh, how they fall and perish; and the land is full of "Rachels, weeping for their children who will not be comforted because they are not."

Girls that have not the smallest vestige of taste for music, appreciable by the strongest microscope of optimism or charity, are often compelled to sit for hours practicing, punishing the piano and the neighbors subjecting them selves to a mental irritation that is ruffling and destructive of clear thinking. Then when the day of reckoning comes and an account of stock is taken, the parent, not finding the dividends proportioned to the investment, mercilessly calls the poor girl's attention to the hundreds of dollars spent in her musical education and accuses her of ingratitude in not being equal to her opportunity. It was really the parent that was not equal. A small fraction of the amount spent in this penal servitude to music, if expended in art, language, or some power or taste in the direction of the girl's individuality, might have made her happy for years and have broadened her entire mental and moral development.

Some men stumble over straws in the road to heaven but climb over hills on the road to destruction.

There is an opportunity for every young man to become an honored citizen, and so many, oh so many, precious boys, are allowing themselves to be carried along, apparently caring but little about their future. We do admire a manly boy, one who tries to become a man and we always feel like helping him along. The boy who steps out from among evil associates, gives tobacco the go-by, has the true grit and deserves to be helped. It takes considerable to turn one's back upon those whom he has been associating with and we admire the pluck of one who does so.

In the home life never forget that the children have social rights, and the chief among these is the right to laugh when they are happy, to cry when they are unhappy, and to make a noise.

The sphere of the woman is to preside over the home as its light and inspiration. No charms so captivating, no grace so irresistible, no spirits so exuberant, no wit so cheery, no conversation so fascinating, no culture so varied but can find in the home a fit place for their varied charms.

Every good act is charity. An exhortation of your fellowmen to virtuous deeds is equal to almsgiving; your putting a wanderer on the right track is charity; your removing stones and thorns and

The American Book Co., Cincinnati, O., has nine sets of library books for the public school. These books are arranged to cover the eight grades in our schools. The list price of each set is $6.00, but you can get each set for $4.80, but will have to pay express charges.

Write the American Book Co. for "The One-Foot Shelf Children Libraries." A postal card sent will bring the folder giving the names of all the books in the nine sets. They are good books.

If you prefer I can cull from the general catalogue a list of good books and publish the titles with prices next week.

I believe Mr. M. P. Conley, of Louisa, keeps these in stock and I know he will be glad to sell to you at same price.

If teachers will write Mr. R. S. Eubank, Lexington, Ky., and state they wish to purchase books for a library he will help in securing good books.

Address a card to "Library Committee," Frankfort, Ky., asking for information on "50 Book Library."

I believe you can secure these 50 books for $2.00, but they are not to become your property.

You keep them and read them as long as you wish. The $2.00 is to pay for transportation on books coming to you and then the return charges.

The postal card will bring the information you need about the books. State you are a teacher.

When writing them state that J. B. McClure, Louisa, Ky., request-

J. H. McClure, of Gal ed a fine welcome address Jordan responded in a sho of well chosen words.

So many gave talks that is not room to give an account of all speeches, so we give the names of the following teachers who took active parts: G. M. Copley, John Collinsworth, O. C. Gartin, Miss Sallie Gearheart, Miss Gypsy Thompson, H. S. Dean, Isaac Cunningham, Don Belcher, McClellan Sammons.

Prof. T. J. Coates was present and captured the audience with his interesting, entertaining and sensible talks. He is the right man in the right place and his campaign in this county will be a "lasting good" to the cause of education.

The good people of Gallup fully sustained their reputation as charming and hospitable entertainers. The dinner served in the hall by these noble people would have done credit to any neighborhood in our country. The quality, quantity and variety were all that the most exacting epicurean could have asked.

Before adjourning the association, by a rising vote, extended thanks to the good citizens of Gallup for their courtesy, kindness and hospitality.

Jamnan Oscar W. Underwood of Congress, declared in an interview at Lexington that he looks for a Democratic victory in 1912.

From Paris comes as the newest thing in woman's fashions the aeroplane sleeve, the armhole of which extends from the shoulder to the waist.

Seems to us that some women are "up in the air" often enough without the aid of the biplane sleeve.

No man can successfully play a double game all the way through a long campaign. Mr. O'Rear's efforts to get the support of both wets and dry, outlaws and law-abiding citizens, sinners and saints, have already failed. The people want a sincere man in the Governor's office. McCreary has never been a double-dealer.

Dr. J. H. Wade, of Ashland, candidate for the Legislature from Boyd and Lawrence practiced medicine in his early life at Buchanan, this county. If you want to know anything favorable about him ask some of the older citizens of that neighborhood. If you would search for any unfavorable information don't ask them—or any other people who know him. His kindness to the poor is a characteristic that you will hear much about in Ashland. His integrity and moral character are above reproach.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY.

Paul Frasher celebrated his 16th birthday by inviting his young friends to his beautiful home. There were about fifty present and all enjoyed a grand time and a big treat. There were not many invited whom did not attend. After they all enjoyed a general treat they were all led to the parlor by Paul where they played many games and enjoyed life fine. Each guest brought Paul a beautiful present, something that was useful and some that he will never forget.

Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Frasher. He is a bright boy and a pupil of Thos. R. Brown High School of Catlettsburg, he was only 16 on Oct. 3, and is among the best scholars in school.

WAS REFUSED ADMISSION.

The West Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church held its Sixty-Fifth Annual Meeting in Charleston last week. On Saturday considerable discussion was occasioned when Bishop Berry ruled against the admission of Rev. D. H. Reid, of Huntington, on the ground that he was not a member of any church. An appeal was taken from the Bishop's ruling but the conference sustained the Bishop.

DOUBT CANNOT EXIST.

Investigation Will Only Strengthen the Proof We Give in Louisa

How can doubt exist in the face such evidence? Read here the endorsement of a representative citizen of Louisa.

J. B. Peters, Lock St. Louisa, Ky., says: "I was in constant misery from kidney complaint.

If I sat down for five or ten minutes and then attempted to get up, it seemed as if a heavy weight were tied to my back and at such times sharp pains darted across my kidneys. When I stooped, rheumatic twinges came one, being particularly severe in my knees, hips and joints. The kidney secretions were sometimes profuse then again there was almost a complete retention. I also noticed that the kidney secretions scalded in passage and contained sediment. When almost discouraged, I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and the contents of three boxes made me feel like a different man. I will be glad to corroborate every word of this statement to anyone that calls upon me."

Mr. Peters gave the above account of his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills in January 1908 and when interviewed on June 21, 1909, he said: "The public statement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills last year still holds good."

THE OLD RELIABLE WEBSTER.

As in nearly everything else, there is a fashion in dictionaries. Since the day of the first "Webster" many other kinds have come. Some have remained, the remainder have gone. Chief among the ones now in vogue is the reliable Webster's New International. It contains 2700 pages and nearly 400,000 words. It is an encyclopedia dictionary, a library of useful knowledge in one volume. It remains as always, the standard for spelling and pronunciation.

If you need batteries for telephone or gas engine use you will find fresh ones at the Snyder Hardware Company's.

and with having made a speech advocating violence and advising Taylor to pursue that course to retain the office of Governor silence pervaded the courtroom. When the full import of the charge became clear to the big crowd one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever seen in the Ballard county courtroom occurred. Hundreds of voters, many of whom were old soldiers who had gone through the war with Senator McCreary, arose to their feet and shouted their disapproval of Judge O'Rear's action and praised Senator McCreary for his exposure of the tactics of the Republican candidate for Governor.

In making the direct charge that Judge O'Rear had attended the Galt House conference and made a speech advocating violence, Senator McCreary said: "The blackest and bloodiest chapter in the history of Kentucky was when Taylor assumed to act as Governor and had cannon and galling guns and soldiers in the Statehouse yard, and bayonets were held to be superior to the law and soldiers superior to legislators and Judges of the Court of Appeals, and legislators were compelled to pass between soldiers before they could get to their respective chambers where they discharged their duties, and these terrible conditions finally culminated in the assassination of William Goebel, Governor-elect of Kentucky, and no Republican tried to arrest the assassins, and when they were arrested by peace officers aided by Democrats, and tried and convicted, they were pardoned by a Republican Governor. I regret to have been informed by reliable authority that my Republican opponent, Judge O'Rear, was at the consultation held at the Galt House in Louisville when Taylor consulted with leading supporters of his as to what he should do, and that Judge O'Rear, who was one of Taylor's advisers, made a speech at the consultation in the Galt House at the meeting, held early in 1900, and advocated the using of armed men and violence to keep Taylor in office. Goebel was simply exercising a constitutional right in making the contest for Governor."

"Judge O'Rear has said in one of his speeches that he has been Judge of the Court of Appeals eleven years and at the time he was in consultation with Taylor he was either a Judge of the Court of Appeals or was about to be inducted into office. That conduct of my opponent at this memorable conference at the Galt House was of such a nature that I will not comment on it further. I demand of this candidate for Governor to tell the people of Kentucky his reasons for banding with Taylor at that consultation, and I dare him to tell the people what he said. It is proper for me to say that two gentlemen of prominence and of the highest veracity were present at the Galt House meeting, and heard his speech, and I know what they will say about Judge O'Rear's speech."

REV. F. F. SHANNON.

The following editorial from the Brooklyn Eagle tells of an important change to be made soon by Rev. F. F. Shannon. It is reported that he has a call from one of the largest churches in Brooklyn.

Rev. Frederick F. Shannon for several years has been appointed to the charge of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, on Seventh avenue and St. John's place. He is a sound preacher, an attractive orator, a diligent student and a wise and sympathetic pastor.

Nevertheless, he is under the itinerating system of Methodism. He thus is liable to be shifted at the close of any year of service to some other parish, if the Bishop presiding over the annual conference should turn down the desire of the parish to retain Mr. Shannon and designate him to some other place or duty.

Itineracy is agreeable to some preachers and not congenial to the comfort or usefulness of others. The liability of itineracy to the latter is as unsatisfying as the fact of it. Such men become lost to Methodism, but are gained by denominations of equal orthodoxy.

Mr. Shannon, at the orderly time and in the orderly way, will ask the conference to which he belongs to release him from Methodism and to commend him to some other evangelical body of the Christian Church.

Regret will be mingled with the compliance with his wishes. He may not remain in any church to which he is called longer than he has with the one he now serves. But that will depend on him and on his new charge, and will not be subject to the liability of an annual itineracy. His temperament and experience account for his desire. He prefers a permanent post to a terminable one, and an optional tenure to one that can arbitrarily be ended or shifted. This involves no reflection on the Methodist system or on him. It only signifies a desire to adjust his condition to his aptitudes.

We trust he will find himself adjustable to the conditions he prefers. We think he will, though, frankly, we recall others of his once Methodist brethren who did not. The test, of course, must be left to time and to the conditions which time alone can reveal and settle. Meanwhile, any orthodox Church not of Methodism that next spring, or sooner, may wish a good preacher and a good man to be its pastor will do well to consider Mr. Shannon, to whom the Sermon Page of any Monday Eagle will always be open and on which he is always welcome. Happily, the educational tests of ministers in Methodism are now equal to those of other orthodox denominations, and the oratorical tests are likely to be as effective as those of any other eleven-hour workers in the vineyard of the Lord.—Brooklyn Eagle.

KING CYRUS GOD'S SHEPHERD

Extra 1, 1-11; II, 64-70—Oct. 15

"He retained not His anger forever, because He delighteth in mercy."—Micah vii, 18.

THE heathen gods are all vengeful. The God of the Bible alone lays claim to being a God of love, "whose mercy endureth forever," as one of the Psalms repeats again and again. Alas! how terribly our God of Wisdom, Justice, Love and Power has been misrepresented to the world, and to the Church, as a God delighting in the eternal torture of the vast majority of His creatures; for if such were His provision for them, and He knew the end from the beginning, it would surely prove that He delighted in and intended their torture. But when our eyes open to a proper interpretation of God's Word, how His character becomes glorious before our eyes and commands our love and our devotion!

Today's study relates to the release of the Israelites from their Babylonian captivity, and their return to Palestine. This return was in exact fulfillment of the Lord's Word at the mouth of Jeremiah, the Prophet, who specifically foretold the destruction of the city, and also that it would be seventy years before the return of its inhabitants—Jeremiah xxv, 12; xxxix, 10; compare II Chronicles xxxvi, 22, 23.

We suggest a careful reading of the Scriptures above cited, to establish the fact that the seventy years predicted related to the desolation of the city of Jerusalem and of their land and not merely to the captivity of the people, some of whom went into captivity twenty years before the city was destroyed. Many, in applying this, have started the seventy years from the beginning of the first captivity, and thus are twenty years out of the way.

One of the most wonderful things connected with the story of Israel's release from Babylonian captivity is that Cyrus was named by the Prophet Isaiah in advance, and called "God's Shepherd"—Cyrus is My Shepherd, and shall perform all My pleasure, even saying to Jerusalem, "Thou shalt be built; and to the temple, thy foundation shall be laid" (Isaiah xlv, 28). Profane history gives Cyrus a very honorable name, calling him "gracious, clement and just, treating men as men, and not as mere tools to be used and cast aside—a conqueror of quite a different type from any the world had previously seen."

King Cyrus' New Method

Nebuchadnezzar's theory of government was to bring representatives of the peoples of all lands to Babylon and there make them homogeneous, choosing the best of every nationality. But when Cyrus came upon the scene, as the conqueror of the Babylonian empire, Darius, the Mede, being under him, he found that the theory of his predecessor had not worked out satisfactorily. The mixed people of Chaldea were not patriotic. Cyrus adopted the opposite plan for governing the world. He not only gave liberty to the Jews to return to their own land, and gave them assistance back, but he did the same for the people of other nations, exiled in Babylon.

A brief epitome of the giving of his proclamation of liberty to the Jews is, "Thus saith Cyrus, King of Persia: All the kingdoms of earth hath Jehovah, the God of heaven, given unto me; and He has charged me to build Him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Whoever there is among you of all his people, his God be with him, and let him go to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of Jehovah, the God of Israel (He is the God), which is at Jerusalem; and whosoever is left in any place where he sojourneth [unprepared for the journey], let the men of his place help him with silver and with gold and with goods and with beasts, beside the free-will offering for the house of God, which is at Jerusalem."

The return from Babylon.

Dr. Peloubet says of this time, "The exiles brought together the representatives of the divided kingdom and made one nation where there had been two, welding the twelve tribes together like iron in a furnace." God represented this union through Ezekiel (xxxvii, 15-28), by two sticks. On one was written "Judah" and on the other "The House of Israel." These sticks were joined together, "And they shall become one in thine hand." This was done in the presence of the people, to show that the exiles of Israel, carried to Babylon, B. C. 722, when Samaria was destroyed, were to unite with the captives of Judah. "And I will make them one nation, and one king shall be king over them all; and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all." Thus we see that there were no "ten lost tribes," for whom there has been so much seeking.

PROFITABLE DAILY TITHING.

"Daily Heavenly Manna."

This little book is having the largest circulation of any of its kind and is conceded by Christians everywhere to be the most helpful.

If Christians allow the rush and crush of selfish ambition to deprive them of their daily portion of heavenly food, they must not be surprised if they grow spiritually leaner day by day, and if the peace of God gives place in their hearts to the discontent which is growing in the world, notwithstanding the multiplication of our comforts and privileges.

Daily Heavenly Manna contains a collection of Scripture texts with appropriate quotations for every day in the year. Surely the little tithe of time daily spent in partaking of its morsels of heavenly counsel cannot fail to profit all who partake. It is published to do good—not for profit.

Your Friends' Birth Dates.

An autograph and birthday record feature in this book is a great convenience. Opposite each day of the year are blank lines upon which you can secure the autographs of your friends and be reminded of their birthdays as they occur. This makes the book more valuable yearly. In ten years you would not sell it for ten dollars.

Besides it has a place for Birth Records, Marriage Records and Death Records. Also it has a table showing the day of the week of any date for one hundred and fifty years.

THINGS ALL OUGHT TO KNOW

As Christian Bible Students—The Satisfactory Proof of "Why God Permits Evil."

One of the questions which comes to nearly every thinking mind today is, "Why does God permit evil?" As we look about us in the world we observe that it is filled with sorrow and trouble, sickness and pain and every trial we could enumerate, and we cannot help wondering WHY GOD ALLOWS IT. We realize that He is almighty and that He could prevent it if He wished. We read in His Word that He is more willing to do for His children than are earthly parents for theirs, and we know how much that means; yet oftentimes, it seems that those who try to do and live right have the most trouble. This question is made very clear in a book entitled, "The Divine Plan of the Ages." Every statement is backed by Scripture, and shows that while God does not sanction evil HE HAS ALLOWED SIN AND DEATH TO REIGN FOR THESE LONG SIX THOUSAND YEARS. This and many other subjects of deep interest to all of God's people are discussed fully and in language easy of comprehension.

In English, German, Swedish, Danish, Norwegian, Italian, French, Greek, Hungarian, Spanish, Polish, Hollandish, (Syriac and Turko-Armenian in preparation.)

355 pages, cloth bound, 35 cents postpaid. Address Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

10 Spiritism Said to Be Demonism.

A most interesting little brochure has recently come off the press setting forth with Bible proofs that the communications received by and through Spiritist Mediums is of Demon origin. The writer traces his subject through the Scriptures from the time when certain of the holy angels became disobedient. He proves from the Scriptures that these fallen spirits personate the human dead, with whose past history, spirits, though invisible, are thoroughly acquainted. He shows that they also frequently personate the Creator and the Redeemer, commanding their deceived ones to pray, do penance, etc. This, however, is merely to lead them on and to bring them more thoroughly under demonic control. Sometimes by breaking down the natural barrier, the human will, they possess their victim, and rule him more or less to his ruin—frequently sending such to the mad-house. Numerous illustrations, Scriptural and otherwise, are given. The price of the little book is but ten cents; it should be in the hands of all interested in Spiritism or who have friends interested therein. Enclose five two-cent stamps to the Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

1 Difficult Scriptures on Hell.

A little Book selling at only ten cents, postpaid, is having a very wide circulation—running up into the millions. It contains some very startling information respecting the meaning of the word Hell. It claims to demonstrate, both from the Hebrew and the Greek of our Bible, that Hell is NOT a place of eternal torment, but merely another name for the TOMB, the GRAVE, THE STATE OF DEATH. It affects to show that man was not redeemed from a far-off place of eternal torture, but quotes the Scriptures proving that he was REDEEMED from the GRAVE at the cost of his Redeemer's LIFE and that the Scriptural Hope, both for the Church and the World, is a resurrection hope based upon the death and resurrection of Jesus. The book is certainly worth the reading. The information it furnishes is certainly valuable, far beyond its trifling cost. Order it at once from the Bible and Tract Society, 17 Hicks street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

JEFFERSON COUNTY SCHOOL.

Kentucky Out of Step With the March of Education.

If you had not driven twelve miles from big, throbbing, pulsing Louisville along perfect roadways sprinkled with oil you would think you were far out in some rural community when you gaze at Rocky Hill school. It seems impossible for such a school-house to be tolerated in a county as rich and prosperous as Jefferson.

Its style of architecture is severely simple. This idea of extreme simplicity is carried out in the veranda of red corrugated iron supported on plain 2 by 4 studding.

If the building, the main building, lacks beauty, the old coal house is much worse. It looks as if after years of wear and tear the neighbors had felt sorry for it and had had something of a donation party. This, of course, is merely a surmise, but it is the only possible solution to the general make-up of the building. Evidently one neighbor had donated some old red roofing tin. Another neighbor, seeing the need of a door, had sent over one that had been cut "kinder whopper jawed" and would

THE DOOR WAS "KINDER WHOPPER JAWED" not fit anywhere—then, having no hinges, it had been tacked on anyway and left standing wide open for the weeds to grow about it.

Jefferson county, with its trolley lines, its splendid roads, its wealth, should be an object lesson to the rest of the state in schools and school equipment, but she is just where the others are.

The whole state is out of step with the march of education.

MOVED THE LECTURER.

Church Too Good For Him, but School-house Was Just the Place.

The man who was to give an illustrated lecture at Deer Creek sat on the steps of the Deer Creek church with his grips and gas drums about him. Seven-thirty came and went; the early summer twilight deepened while a family of screech owls discussed their affairs under their breath; 8 o'clock came and still no audience. A buggy rattled on the road below, and a voice called shrilly:

"Hello! Anybody up there?" "Yes, and I want to get in to put my lantern in place," answered the lecturer.

"Didn't you hear that we had changed the place?" queried the voice.

"No." "Well, we did. You better get your things in your wagon and come down to the schoolhouse, half a mile down the road, for the folks is there waiting for you."

"How did you happen to change the place of the lecture at the last moment?"

"It was this way: You see, we knew you had to have a big light in your lantern—oil or kerosene or other—and we knew, too, that you had to have a sheet or sumthin' big and white to throw the pictures on to and it would have to be tacked on to the wall. We have just had put down a brand new carpet on the church and papered the walls, so we were afraid you would spill oil on the carpet or punch holes in the new wall paper tacking up your sheet. You see, we were afraid you'd hurt the church some way, so we moved you down here because you couldn't hurt the schoolhouse at all."

The Boy Understood.

One of the educational committee in Louisville had pinned on his button and went out onto the street for a paper. While the boy was counting out the pennies in change he caught sight of the white and blue button. He smiled and got onto his tiptoes and read slowly:

"My $ for improvement Kentucky schools."

Again he smiled and, reaching out a grimy paw, exclaimed: "Put it there and shake. I'm with you fellers, all right."

That we thank the delegation from Louisa for their presence; for their very helpful talks and the rendition of the beautiful songs.

That we tender our thanks to our worthy county president, M. S. Burns, for his wonderful plea for the redemption of the home, the salvation of the child and the advancement of the Sunday school.

That we tender our thanks to our worthy district president, M. Harmon, and our efficient secretary, J. M. Cooksey, for their zealous and untiring labors for the advancement of Sunday schools and pray the richest blessings of God upon them for the ensuing year.

That we thank the speakers for their presence and the prompt response in discussing the subjects allotted them.

That as we consider the Green Valley Convention one of the best we ever attended we pray God that much and lasting good may be accomplished and that a greater stimulus may be given to the Sunday schools in this division and that those that are not enrolled as members may become members of some good Sunday school and give their talents that God has given them in the upbuilding of His cause here on earth.

That we thank Mrs. Nash for her very interesting talk which shows what women can do in Sunday Schools.

POLITICAL MATTERS.

Interesting Reading About the Kentucky Campaign.

Statement From Vansant.

State Campaign Chairman Rufus Vansant and Secretary Robert G. Phillips have inaugurated a month's work which they say will smash to smithereens all records for campaign work ever done by either political party in Kentucky. They say that by the time the last day of October rolls round it will be patent even to Republicans that the Democratic state ticket, headed by Ollie M. James for United States Senator and James B. McCreary for Governor, is going to sweep the state, and to take charge again of the state government at Frankfort.

State Chairman Vansant says that the Democrats from every part of the commonwealth are reporting daily to the state headquarters the greatest interest and enthusiasm for the ticket. He says that there is a keen rivalry among the districts and among the counties as to which one can increase its Democratic majority the most. Secretary Phillips says that the Democrats are going to make the month of October notable in the political annals of the state. He says the working force at headquarters will be doubled and that more Democratic speakers will be on the stump than ever before in any campaign for state offices.

Among the distinguished speakers who are to appeal to the Democrats of Kentucky to elect their state ticket are Governor Judson Harmon, of Ohio; Speaker Champ Clark, of Missouri; Representative W. A. Cullip, of Indiana; Representative Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama; Representative Thomas Hefflin, of Alabama; United States Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, and a long list of others.

A big Democratic rally was held in Louisville and was addressed by Governor McCreary, the gubernatorial nominee; Edward J. McDermott, the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor, Ollie M. James, and Representative A. O. Stanley, of the Second District. Mayor William O. Head, of Louisville, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers and made an address while, shows to Democrats everywhere that the Chief Executive of Louisville is taking the keenest interest in the success of Democracy.

On October 19 the Democrats are expected to have another big rally and to be at Franklin, Simpson county, in the Third District. Governor Harmon, of Ohio, will be the chief speaker. The Democrats are planning numerous other big meetings to be held at various points in the state.

Representative James, who has just returned from a speaking trip through the mountains, says he never saw as much enthusiasm for a Democratic state ticket. Said he: "When Governor Beckham was the nominee of the Democrats for Governor in 1903 I accompanied him on a campaign trip through the mountains. It will be recalled that in that year Governor Beckham's majority was about 30,000. I have just returned from a trip through the same country, and I know I am not mistaken when I say that the crowds I addressed this time were much larger and the enthusiasm was greater than it was in 1903, and in that year there was the greatest enthusiasm over Governor Beckham's candidacy. All his meetings in that campaign were largely attended, and in the more remote sections of the state, where he was not as well known as he is today, there was the greatest interest in him, and great curiosity on the part of the voters to see and to hear the youthful nominee of the Democrats for Governor. I was unaccompanied on the trip which I have just completed, and there is no doubt in my mind but that the Democrats are going to have a tremendous majority in the election this fall."

James Making a Winning Fight.

All doubt of Democratic success can be dispelled by reading the newspaper reports of Ollie James' triumphant journey through the State. Wherever he has gone immense crowds have greeted him, and the enthusiasm is greater than has been aroused in years in any political campaign. This is not entirely due to Mr. James' magnetic personality, although popular with all classes. It is caused by the desire of the Democrats to show by their presence that they are going to send to the United States Senate a man who will vote exactly opposite to Senator Bradley. They recognize that one vote in the Senate may mean the control of that body, so closely are the parties divided. It was not necessary for the Democratic speakers to raise national issues in this fight. The voters themselves are asking questions about the tariff and the trusts and they have made this great issue a feature of the campaign. All the efforts of Judge O'Rear to confine this contest to State matters have only convinced them that the Republican party wants to change the subject, because it cannot face the people on its record in Congress and in the White House.

The legislators to be chosen in November will not only elect a Senator next January, but nineteen of the State Senators will hold over for two years and will vote for Bradley's successor in 1914. Kentucky has never engaged in a more far-reaching contest. It concerns a Governorship and all the State offices; two United States Senatorships, and will have an influence on the election of a President next year. That is why Champ Clark, Speaker of the House, Oscar Underwood, the Floor Leader, Governor Marshall of Indiana, William J. Bryan, and all the great national figures are tendering their support to the Kentucky Democrats. They know how vital it is to success in the nation that Kentucky should vote right this year.

Will the Preachers be Caught?

The Republicans are at their same old tricks, trying to play upon the prejudices of the preachers of the gospel. They are getting the names of each preacher in the State and are sending him a special class of literature, in order to prejudice him against the Democratic party on the whiskey question in order to get him to vote for O'Rear, and also in order to get each one of them to try to influence his members to vote the Republican ticket. It is to be hoped these gentlemen will not again be caught by the deceptive song of the Republicans. Four years ago hundreds of ministers bolted their ticket, thinking they were doing God's service and believing they were voting for a man and a party who would vote for and secure the extensions of the county unit bill when in fact they were caught in the whiskey drag-net of the Republicans and were influenced and led to do the very thing they did not want to do. —Mayfield Messenger.

This campaign may seem all fun and frolic to Judge O'Rear, who is striving to surpass Mark Twain and Bill Nye with his witticisms, but we can assure him that the voters regard this election as a serious question in which not only a Governor, a Senator, and all State officers are to be chosen, but a potent influence is to be exerted as well upon the Presidential contest in 1912.

A few days ago, L. W. Bethurum, Republican candidate for Auditor, spoke at Paintsville. The Louisville Herald said he was heard by a splendid, representative and enthusiastic audience. There were just 81 people there. Divide the Republican reports of vast audiences in this campaign by six, if you want a fair estimate of the crowds their speakers are drawing.

When Judge O'Rear thought he was going to put the Democrats on the defensive and have them on the run, he reckoned without that valiant leader of the embattled hosts, Governor McCreary. The Democratic nominee has not retreated an inch; nor will he. His cause is just; his opportunity great; the occasion ideal, and he will carry the battle into the thickest of the fight. Never in his long career has he shown greater vigor. His example makes every member of the rank and file step faster and fight harder.

Governor Willson's Republican Board of Equalization has in the last two years, added more than $1,380,000.00 to the burden of the people's taxes. The platform upon which Judge O'Rear is running endorses every act of Willson's administration, so, of course, this spoliation of the property of the taxpayers is approved.

To date Governor Willson has only been absent 269 days from his post of duty. He has drawn from the treasury for that period of idleness $4,786.20, his salary being $17.60 per day, and for doing his work Lieutenant-Governor Cox has drawn the same amount. This is the wastefulness and neglect which Judge O'Rear's platform tells the voters is altogether praise-worthy.

McChesney at Carrollton.

Carrollton, Ky., Oct. 9.—Former Secretary of State H. V. McChesney spoke to a good crowd here today in the interest of the Democratic ticket. He devoted most of his address to State issues. He said in part:

"The wearer of a 'halo' is ordinarily supposed to be very circumspect in his behavior, and especially careful as to his spoken words. This is necessary in order that the halo may remain spotless. This being true, it grieves us to call attention to the failure of Kentucky's only halo owner to live up to the plans and specifications.

But let us get down to our mutton. Senator Bradley, who has discarded his slouch hat for the Phoenix Hill 'halo' doesn't show any sign of improvement in his manner of juggling figures and concealing the truth in his campaign speeches. In his Ashland speech he told his hearers that the Willson administration has paid out for education, in round numbers, $3,783,000 more than the last Beckham administration, and added that if this had not been done the State would now be $2,500,000 out of debt.

That statement looked like a pretty good showing for the Republicans, but the trouble about it is that the Senator was so busy keeping his halo on straight that he entirely forgot to mention the other side of the account. Perfectly willing to tell his audience that the Willson administration has paid out $3,785,000 more than Beckham's administration, he neglected to tell them that the Willson administration has received into the treasury $4,828,000 more than the preceding administration, with which to pay this $3,785,000 excess for education. The Senator left his audience to find this out the best way they could. Of course, the wearer of a halo wouldn't make a false statement, and we do not mean to intimate that the gentleman in question has done so; the truth to allow his hearers to deceive themselves, so to speak.

O'Rear is going to destroy 'machines' and have all tickets nominated by primary—and he starts the fight by nominating himself and his ticket in a 'steam-roller' convention.

He is going to put the whiskey interests out of politics—and he inaugurates the movement by selecting the president of the Distillers' Association as treasurer of his campaign fund.

He is going to establish a non-partisan judiciary—and sets the first example by holding onto his seat in the Court of Appeals, before which thousands of litigants and hundreds of lawyers have cases pending, while making a race for a political office.

He is going to have United States Senators elected by popular vote—and he does not allow even his State convention to name the Republican candidate for the Senate.

In view of these glaring inconsistencies, the honorable position which Judge O'Rear holds is all that has prevented some wicked Democrat or thoughtless Republican, from suggesting that, along with his other varied accomplishments, he is a demagogue of the purest ray serene. But, of course, no one will say this about a Judge of our court of last resort, and particularly one who esteems his position so highly that he holds on to it, and the $415 per, even when he is making no effort to earn a dollar of the compensation provided.

The man who would institute great reforms must approach the task with clean hands; and I submit that the Republican candidate for Governor, carrying this huge bundle of inconsistencies, does not meet the specifications.

Kentucky may have had some other public men in her history who thought they were the only perfect men in the Commonwealth, but Judge O'Rear is the first one who has been willing to admit it. Now, when one of these 'better-than-his-party' and 'holier-than-thou' fellows starts out to advertise himself the public invariably begins to investigate him pretty closely; and it usually pays to do so. I have been making rather a careful investigation of the grounds upon which the distinguished but modest Republican candidate for Governor bases his claim to perfection, and I am going to give you, in what be called tabloid form, the results of this investigation; it holds down to about this:

He is going to help the laboring man, elevate the morals of the people, make corruption obsolete, purify politics, destroy machines and have all tickets nominated by primary, put the whiskey interests out of politics, establish a nonpartisan judiciary, have United States Senators elected by popular vote, and loo after any other little matter that may demand his attention time to time.

"This is a pretty big job—the Judge has cut out for himself, but the size of it isn't half so remarkable as the manner in which he is starting out to accomplish these reforms, I shall take them up in the orders have named them.

He is going to help the laboring man—and he begins by endorsing Taft's veto of the farmers' and laborers' free list bill.

He is going to elevate the morals of the people—and he starts the good work by having Caleb Powers help write his platform.

He is going to make corruption obsolete—and he starts the crusade by endorsing Bradley's election to the Senate.

He is going to purify politics—and selects Langley, the friend of the tariff barons, as his campaign manager.

All of which leads to the conclusion that the wearing of a halo, even though it may have been manufactured by a county unit man in a beer garden, does not always make the wearer perfect.

Democratic Victory.

Chairman R. H. Vansant of the Democratic Campaign Committee, has issued a statement predicting Democratic success. This is not the claim of a rainbow-chaser who is fooling both himself and his party, but is the frank opinion of a practical man, who is in touch with every county in the State, and who can speak authoritatively of the work that is being done.

The organization is the best that has been made in Kentucky in many years. It not only comprises old and new Leaders, but goes into every precinct and enlists the support of the rank and file, which, after all, determines whether victory or defeat shall be the portion of any party.

Every man who has attended the Democratic meetings, bears testimony to the accuracy of Chairman Vansant's prediction. The great crowds, the unbridled enthusiasm, and the hearty welcome given Democratic candidates and speakers recall the old days in Kentucky, when the State went forty thousand Democratic without an effort.

It only remains for the Democrats to go to the polls to place Kentucky where it belongs, back in the list of Democratic States, never again to stray away from the old faith and the old traditions.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"I suffered a complete break down in health, some time ago," writes Mrs. A. McGill, from this place. "I was very weak and could not do any work. I tried different remedies, but they did me no good.

One day, I got a bottle of Cardui. It did me so much good, I was surprised, and took some more.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

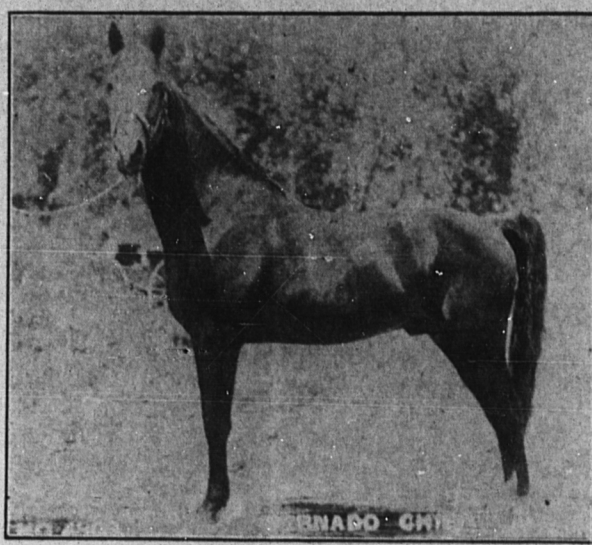

In the past fifty years, thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui.

A COLT SHOW.

On last Saturday at Glenwood, this county, on the farm of Taylor brothers, a colt show was held. It included only the colts sired by their fine stallion, Bernardo Chief. The show was quite a success, despite the heavy rain.

This is the only registered stallion in the county. His number is 4308. He was sired by Sterling Chief No. 2079, he by Dan Wilkie Gay No. 6841. Bernardo Chief is owned by Taylor brothers.

The turn-out was wonderful for a three year old.

Below Chief, owned by Wm. Bel-low, of Denton, took first prize. This is a fine chestnut sorrel with star and snip much resembling the sire, Daisy Chief, owned by Wm. Cooksey, took second prize, and Madge Chief, owned by W. K. Queen, received third prize.

The judges were J. H. Woods, of Glenwood; Bob Towler, of Ves-sie, and J. C. Sparks, of Glenwood. We are glad the Taylor brothers are doing so much for the upbuild-ing of the horse breeding industry of our county and state, which is famed for good horses. They hope to have a better show next year. The horse of which is now in fine condition and we hope to have a better day, so all the people can attend. We are sure it will be of interest and inspire them to aid in upbuilding this business.

REV. J. W. CRITES.

The Rev. J. W. Crites, who is now the pastor of the M. E. Church South, succeeding the Rev. W. L. Reid, preached his first sermon to his new charge on last Sunday morning. In the language of Mr. Crites it was a "splendid audi-ence" which heard the initial ser-mon of this pastoral year, the auditorium being entirely full, pews and aisles. Mr. Crites preached upon the theme "The World's Only Hope," choosing as a foundation for his discourse the words of Jesus as recorded in John 14, "I am the way, the Truth, the Life," and the vital subject was so treated and handled by Mr. Crites that he held the attention of his intelli-gent audience from the beginning of his sermon to its close. Mr. Crites said it was his desire to put Jesus before his congregation, and the sermon of the morning, tak-en in connection with his evening discourse, most satisfactorily grati-fied his wish.

"We Would See Jesus." These words expressing the desire of some Greeks were the basis of the evening sermon on "Seeing Jesus." Again the congregation was a large and intelligent one, and again Mr. Crites manifested his ability as a preacher. Logic, evident sincerity, devotion to his high calling, earnestness, eloquence—all these admirable qualities pervaded both discourses, giving earnest for the work of the coming year.

Mr. Crites is a genial, pleasant gentleman. He and his wife and four children are comfortably domiciled in the parsonage, where, on Monday evening last, they were heavily and vigorously "pounded" by friends. Louisa has been made famous by the hospitality of its people, and on this occasion it was again manifested in a marked degree. The high cost of living need not worry Mr. Crites for some time, at least. Forty 2-pound packages of sugar, real sugar, too—almost as much coffee, enough flour in sacks to make a barrel, potatoes, apples, chickens and many otherables in profusion testified in a fitting way to the cordial good feeling of the flock to their shep-herd.

It occurred on Monday last at his home in White-house, burial taking place on Tues-day afternoon. The funeral ser-vices were conducted by the Rev. H. B. Huette, of this city. The cause of death was infirmities of age. Had he lived a month or so longer Mr. Seagraves would have been 70 years old. He left a widow seven children, 4 of whom were born by a former wife. He was a consist-ent and useful member of the Southern Methodist Church, and died as he had lived for many years, in the wellfounded hope of a life of happiness beyond the grave. Mr. Seagraves was a good lawyer, versed in its many phases, and had been called several times to act as a special judge of the circuit court. He was fond of the Sunday school, seemingly never tired of doing all he could to pro-mote the interests of the work. He will be greatly missed by the peo-ple among whom he lived.

UNFIT FOR THE BUSINESS.

The trial of J. E. Cribbs, for unlawfully whipping Patton Wed-dington, a small pupil, while teach-ing at the Honaker academy at Coal Run, Prof. Cribbs was fined seventy dollars and costs. Mr. Cribbs is now attending college at his home at Grove City, Pa. He is very rash and impetuous when his temper is aroused, but is oth-erwise a good teacher. This may be the means of teaching him a much needed lesson. — Pike cor.

The News was informed by a gen-tleman who had seen the child up-on whom the "Prof." had vented his "rash and impetuous" temper. He was small and delicate, and the instrument used in the assault was like an ox goad in size. The of-fense was a trifling one. "Rash and impetuous" men have no business in the schoolroom as teachers. They would do well to take a few les-sons themselves.

"YALLER ROOT" VS. "SANG." Ginseng has long been one of the most valuable herbs known to this country, but it appears that it will have to take a second place in the market in a short time. Yel-low root, a very common plant which grows abundantly in this section promises to surpass "sang" in price before next season. An exchange says:

While "sang" was being sold here at five and six dollars a pound, yellow root was bringing fifteen to twenty cents a pound. Today it is worth $5.50 a pound with a steady upward tendency. Fluid extract of yellow root is selling for something like $9 a pint and will go higher. Yellow root is one of the import-ant ingredients of proprietary medi-cine and its consumption for the last two or three years has been so great that the market supply is inadequate to fill the demand.
